The overall activity level of this tour is a level 3. This means you're an on-the-go traveler. You don't want to miss a thing, so walking and standing for longer periods of time (2-3 hours) isn't a big deal. A moderately paced two-and-a-half-hour walking tour, covering several miles, hills, and uneven surfaces, is no problem for you. Walking four miles over the course of a day is very doable, as is climbing into and out of various modes of transportation (tuk-tuk, cable car, zodiac, etc.). You can climb three flights of stairs easily and handle altitudes between 6,000 and 9,000 feet. Expect some longer days with early mornings or late nights balanced with free time to recharge or set out on your own adventure. This level is not a fit for travelers who require mobility assistance devices.

The foodie walking tour lasts for around one and a half hours and includes elements of eating while standing.

The walk up to the Royal Observatory is via a steep hill at a gradual elevation of 223 feet/68 meters.

If you require any special assistance while on tour, please make us aware at time of reservation so the necessary request form can be sent to your attention.

Days of features are interchangeable.

The specific London theater performance will be determined approximately 2 weeks prior to departure. Performances are selected based on availability and timing.

City-located hotels often have smaller-size rooms and air conditioning is not always available.

Single accommodations are limited and are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Single rate subject to change based on availability.

This tour uses public transportation. On the London Underground, select stations do not have handicapped accessible facilities and travelers will need to use stairs.

London is completely cashless on public transport, so it is recommended to bring a suitable contactless bank card for transactions. American Express is not widely accepted in London.

Experience It! Tower of London

First built in the 11th century, the Tower of London has been a staple of London history and is a must-see for visitors. The fortress is located along the River Thames – a fascinating piece of architecture nestled amongst the 21st century buildings of the city beside it. Over the course of its storied past, the Tower has changed ownership and roles multiple times; it has been a prison, treasury, armory, museum, and more. Today, it houses the Crown Jewels and is the permanent home to the Beefeaters, the keepers of the Tower. Your visit recounts the legends and facts, walking you in the footsteps of past prisoners and esteemed royals.
